

Legends of Dawn at Kickstarter

Written by Administrator

Tuesday, 24 July 2012 08:57 - Last Updated Sunday, 23 December 2012 05:46

{module [48]}

Dreamatrix & Aurofinity are launching a Kickstarter funding campaign in order to raise funds for Legends of Dawn completion. They invite you to support them through Kickstarter .

Legends Of Dawn is an isometric, open-world RPG for PC, set in a new fantasy world.

What sets Legends of Dawn apart is the freedom of play expressed in a several key attributes that are rarely seen in RPG genre. The team has poured passion and creativity into taking gamers on an enthralling ride away from wearisome reality into the magic world of Narr.

Legends of Dawn does not force players to choose class like most other RPG. Another quality that makes Legends of Dawn interesting is the freedom of direction and movement. Most games force a player to follow the main storyline and forbid any deviation, or significant veering off the set course. In Legends of Dawn players are free to wander wherever tickles their fancy within the continent, without limitations, under one condition - staying alive.

This is not a game to appeal to casual gamers, it is a hardcore fantasy game with a large, diverse world filled with a lot of dangers, intrigue and mystery.

Another interesting feature of the game is a system of personalized spells built with magic runestones. By pleasing gods with offerings and sacrifices, players can create their own magic spells.